SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

In the fall of 1934, thirty-seven wide-eyed, frightened Freshmen entered the halls of Armstrong High School. Little did they realize what high school was all about, but they soon became accustomed to the rules and regulations and became real high school students. At their class election, Floyd Reynolds was elected president; Edwin Berry, vice-president; Julia Burd, secretary-treasurer; Marjorie Duitsman, student council member; and Miss Hoffman, class advisor. During the year the freshmen were hosts and hostesses to the entire school at the Christmas party.

When thirty-two students entered school, for their second year, in the fall of 1935, they were more accustomed to the rules of high school life. This year they elected Helen Havener, president; Floyd Reynolds, vice-president; Clara Foster, secretary-treasurer; Hilda Schlueter and Robert Bass, student council members; Miss Newell, class advisor. The class sponsored the Halloween party that year. The new members added to the class roll were: Lois Morris, Monticello; Marjorie Funkhouser, Gifford; Charlene Coleman, Penfield.

In the fall of 1936, the Juniors entered with a greater sense of responsibility, for they were to sponsor the Junior-Senior banquet. They elected Clara Foster, president; Julia Burd, vice-president; Marjorie Funkhouser, secretary-treasurer; Irma Bloomer, Robert Bass, and Earl Kissack, student council members; Miss Graham, class advisor. The class play, "Lady Spitfire" was given December 4 and 7. The returns of the play were sufficient to cover the Junior-Senior banquet. New members that year were: Marvin Swanson, Paxton; Ervin Burton, Boswell, Indiana; Naomi Butts, Penfield; Paul Longenbaugh and Raymond Simpson.

At the beginning of the Senior year there were only twenty-five members in the class. They elected Clara Foster, president; Paul Longenbaugh, vice-president; Mary Foster, treasurer; Mary Louise Fairchild, secretary; Robert Bass, Julia Burd, Lois Morris, Marvin Swanson, student council members; Mr. Porter, class advisor. At the end of the first six weeks Paul Longenbaugh moved to DeLand and Ervin Burton was elected to fill his office. The Senior rings and pictures were received before Christmas. The class play, "High Pressure Homer" was given April 9. Baccalaureate services were held in the Armstrong M. E. Church, May 22, followed by commencement on May 26.

THE STRUGGLE ONWARD

Thru' the High School Halls of knowledge
Many different students go
Some are rushing, some are pushing,
Some are walking very slow.
Some are strolling, some are dreaming,
Some are talking on the way,
But the one who struggles onward
Is the one who'll win the day.

—Alice Norton.

CLASS PROPHECY

(1948)

Part of a Letter Recently Received by Professor of A. T. H. S.

Some people say annuals aren't of much value and are usually destroyed, but Marjorie Funkhouser and I recently looked through our Senior Annual published in 1938. She was visiting at my apartment on 45th Street, we decided to have a little fun, so we tried to see who could recall what each student graduating at that time is doing at present. She being a traveling saleslady found out more than I did. But here is the list after we got together, of course, we had to do some investigating and failed to find out much about some of them but the students being so widely scattered I think we accomplished a good deal.

Robert Bass and Irma Bloomer are happily married and have two children, Robert, Jr., and little Irma. We got quite a kick out of this because we didn't think that "puppy love" affair would ever turn into a serious romance. We found out from the paper that they live in Armstrong and Robert is running his father's farm.

Clara Foster now, Mrs. Paul Longenbaugh, is happily married and settled in Deland. Can you imagine? Paul turned out to be a preacher.

Julia Burd's face is always staring at me every time I open a paper. She owns a beautiful shop in New York City, where she designs clothes for the "big bugs." She always wanted to be an interior decorator but something changed her mind. The signs read "Come to 'Julia Burd's Shoppe.'"

Naomi Butts is married and lives in Bismarck, Illinois.

We found very little about Evelyn Oehmke but we did hear that she was home for a two week's visit with her folks in Penfield, Illinois.

We didn't have to meditate very long on the name of Ervin Burton. His name is well known to all because of the great sensation that was made recently over a book he has written about China after a recent visit to that country.

Raymond Simpson is vice-president of the C & E I Railroad Company. He has achieved much success.

After much difficulty we found that Josephine Paris was teaching commercial work in Sidell High School and seemed to be enjoying her work. Her sister, Martha, is married and performing the duties of a good wife.

Lois Morris has a fine position as private secretary to the President of the Chamber of Commerce in Danville, Illinois. Something must have come up to change her mind about teaching school, that being her aim in her A. T. H. S. days. Arlene Clark works for the same company as typist.

Hilda Schlueter turned out to be an excellent nurse. She has a fine job as the private nurse of Marvin Swanson, a doctor in Paxton, Illinois.

RESUME'

I think of all things, Marvin turning out to be a very prominent doctor, was the most surprising.

Mary Foster, now Mrs. Leon Reynolds is married and lives in Gifford, Illinois. She and Leon are just as devoted to each other as ever.

Ralph Schoolcraft is married and lives on a stock farm in Indiana.

Eldon Johnson is coach of athletics at Rantoul High School and has that quiet, little girl, Margaret Juvinall, for his wife.

Howard Carter is often spoken of and admired for his daring aviation stunts.

Helen Havener is at present on an "Around The World Cruise" with her husband, a French writer. What became of Bus?

A recent circus came to our town. What do you think? Louise Booher thrilled the public by a daring trapeze performance. The outstanding event was a triple somersault.

Last but not least, our Class Advisor Mr. Porter. He is now Dean of Men at the University of Wisconsin. He settled down in his home state.

An A. T. H. S. Alumni,

Mary Lou Fairchild
(Marjorie Funkhouser)

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

Be it known to all that we, the Class of '38 of Armstrong High School, do hereby make our last will and testament, being of sound mind and body, and feeling that our outstanding abilities may be put to better use by the underclassmen.

ARTICLE I

First, we the Class of 1938, do will and bequeath to all undergraduates our orderly conduct in the assembly.

Second, to the present Freshman, three more years of listening to "Stars and Stripes Forever" from the typing room.

ARTICLE II

To Mr. Laurence—a book of prepared speeches for the student body.

To Miss Hoffman—the right to "wear the pants" in her home.

To Miss Newell—our convincing political arguments to be distributed as she sees fit.

To Mrs. Lindgren—our excess energy to supplement hers.

To Mr. Maxey—a fresh sports page from all the papers.

RESUME'

To Mrs. Burkhart—all the paper clips we borrowed for our notebooks.
To Miss Graham—access to the Armstrong Public Library.
To Mr. Porter—our "beauty rest" mattresses.
To Mr. Werries—all new F. F. A. members.

ARTICLE III

To James Cade, Ervin's poetical abilities.
To E. J. Blakney, Howard's way with the girls.
To the janitors, Julia's dime in the assembly floor.
To Ruth Harrison, Helen's soprano leads.
To Keith Blackford, Marjorie's smile.
To Paul Ingalsbe, Eldon's wavy locks.
To Joyce Britt, Robert's excess energy.
To Bill Foster, Arlene's great height.
To Edna Firebaugh, Hilda's purple pants.
To Alice Workheiser, Lois's typing ability.
To Dick Davies, Margaret's giggles.
To anyone who will eat it, Louise's "big apple."
To Myrtle Smith, Irma's "Put Put."
To Margaret White, Mary's ability to play the violin.
To Johnny King, Mary Louise's personality.
To Charles Campbell, Marvin's tenor voice.
To Ronald Simpson, Cora's deep thinking.
To Roselyn Roberts, Evelyn's Freshman dates.
To Margaret Meitzler, Clara's naps in English class.
To Louise Kingry, Josephine's straight hair.
To Earl Jones, Raymond's ability as a referee.
To Glenn Wright, Martha's quietness.
To Robert Doran, Ralph's love of colors, especially white.
To Margery Fairchild, Naomi's Bismarck attractions.
To Trojan, a genuine sponge.
To the Junior play cast, our class furniture.
To the rest of the Juniors, our annual equipment and experienced advisor.

In witness where of, we the class of 1938, set our hand and seal this, the twenty-eighth day of May, nineteen hundred and thirty eight.

JUNIOR CLASS HISTORY

In September of '37, a class of twenty-nine Juniors started another year at A. T. H. S. The class elected officers as follows: president, Sarah Ludwig; vice-president, Keith Blackford; secretary-treasurer, Charles Campbell; student council members, Martin Metz, E. J. Blakney, and Glenn Wright; class advisor, Miss Newell.

The Juniors presented the play, "The Antics of Andrew" on November 20. From the receipts of the play and the selling of candy the Juniors gave the annual Junior-Senior Banquet.

SOPHOMORE CLASS HISTORY

In the fall of 1937, a class of Sophomores started to work their second year through high school. A few had dropped out and some new ones started. Class officers elected were: Durward Gwin, president; Ralph Carter, vice-president; Lois Kissack, secretary-treasurer; student council members, Alberta Hess, Inez Kite and Donald McConnell.

Two new members the second semester were: Hazel McFarland and Alma Gillum. Members who dropped out were: Harry Hall and Donald McConnell.

The Halloween party was given by this class in the high school gymnasium:

FRESHMAN CLASS HISTORY

In the fall of 1937, thirty unexperienced Freshmen entered the portals of good old Armstrong High. At the start they elected class officers as follows: Phyllis Laurence, president; Keith Rose, vice-president; Annis Wilson, secretary-treasurer. The class unanimously chose Mr. Maxey as their class advisor.

The usual Christmas party was given by this class. In November the freshmen boys of Agriculture I class went to Chicago to the International Stock Show.

WE THE SENIORS

Our course is ending at last
Our high school days nearly done,
But we can't forget our pasts
Of the prizes and awards we have won.
We leave behind many memories
Of heartaches, and, also, of laughs,
Of how we avoided all drudgeries
Of failures to draw a graph
We regret that the time has come
When at last from high school we must go,
But we'll think of the days yet to come,
And move forward, though progress is slow,
And we'll always remember (no jest)
Our days at A. T. H. S.

—Ervin Burton.

TRY AND DO IT CLUB

The Try and Do It Club began its second year with an increase in its membership from twenty-seven to thirty-five. They elected Clara Foster, president; Sarah Ludwig, vice president; Irma Bloomer, secretary and treasurer. Miss Hoffman, the club advisor, instructed the girls on their projects of knitting, sewing, crocheting and embroidering. Club emblems were won by several of the girls for the success of their work.

HONOR GROUP

The Honor Group is made up of leaders in scholarship and athletics. The best scholars were chosen from the records of grades of all four years. The most athletic scholar was chosen by the faculty. The annual staff sponsored an election before the student body to select the best boy and girl leaders.

ROYAL PURPLE

"The Royal Purple," the school newspaper was published every two weeks by the paper staff.

The position of Editor-in-Chief was filled by Julia Burd, assisted by Marjorie Funkhouser, with Harry Hall as Business Manager. The Reporters were: Irma Bloomer, Lois Morris, Mary Lou Fairchild, Jane Morris, Margery Fairchild, Robert Bass, Johnny King, Keith Blackford, Durward Gwin and Helen Havener. The typing work was done by Clara Foster, Arlene Clark, Lois Morris, Helen Havener and Julia Burd. Mr. Porter was the Advisor.

FUTURE FARMERS OF AMERICA

The Future Farmers of America chapter was organized at the beginning of the school year. Thirty boys became members of the organization. Some were already experienced Future Farmers but a large number were boys just starting in Vocational Agriculture. The following officers were elected for the year: Robert Doran, president; Keith Blackford, vice-president; William Foster, secretary-treasurer; and Richard Davies, reporter. Mr. Euell Greer was chosen as advisor. Later in the year he was replaced by Mr. Erich Werries. Meetings were held throughout the year to take care of necessary business and activities of the F. F. A.

An amateur show was given February 15th, sponsored by the F. F. A. members and the Potomac Leader, with very satisfactory results.

The F. F. A. Oratorical contest for this section was held at Fisher, Illinois, March 25th, 1938. The F. F. A. Chapter of Armstrong was represented by Robert Cessna who won fourth out of six contestants. His oration was entitled, "The Development of Hybrid Corn."

The Advantages of F. F. A. Membership to a Farm Boy

The F. F. A. is a great national agricultural organization with clear-cut purposes and ideals and a program in which I may have a part.

It provides me additional opportunity to train myself as a farmer and a farm citizen.

It provides practical experience on my own level with my own problems and thus increases my chance to learn new ways and new things.

It provides additional opportunities for me to develop my talents and my leadership ability.

It encourages and assists me in habits of right living.

It teaches me to deal with myself and to work with others—co-operate.

It teaches me to be thrifty—to save and to have.

It rewards and encourages my efforts and enlarges the scope of my opportunities.

It broadens my acquaintance and allows me to exchange ideas with the other fellow interested in the things in which I am interested.

It raises my value to my community as a good citizen.

"HIGH PRESSURE HOMER"

The home of the Woodruff family in a medium sized Eastern town was the setting for the 1938 Senior Class Play, "High Pressure Homer." The play, a three-act comedy of family life displayed the Woodruff family in all of its insane and hilarious glory.

Each of the Woodruffs had a mental quirk of some sort and when the entire family was assembled things just couldn't help happening. Homer Hampton Haywood (Ervin Burton) supplied the high pressure salesmanship and Arlene Woodruff (Marjorie Funkhouser) provided the very necessary love interest.

Marvin Swanson and Irma Bloomer in childhood roles kept the audience laughing, while Julia Burd with her great actress technique was very effective. Several funerals and fires appeared as comical episodes with Arlene Clark and Robert Bass as the interested individuals.

The complete cooperation of the entire Senior Class was a factor in the success of the play. The production was directed by Mr. Porter.

THE CAST

The play was directed by Miss Newell, the class advisor. From the receipts of the play and candy sales the Junior-Senior Banquet was given.

SPEECH WORK

Speech, this year, started enthusiastically with twenty-eight people signing up for the various events! Although a number dropped out, there were thirteen in the elimination contest, February 26. Six more people tried out in the special humorous reading contest, March 1, to take the place of Elizabeth Strader, who had won first February 26, but who one week later, had moved to Henning. Mr. Purky, speech teacher in Danville High School, judged the first contest, and Mrs. E. B. Davies, Miss Helen Newell, and Mr. Gerald Porter, judged the second contest. This contest was held in the gymnasium before the entire student group; whereas the first was held in the assembly room in the evening. The winners of these two contests were: Cora Baker, serious reading; Robert Cessna, humorous reading; Martin Metz, oratorical declamation; Edna Firebaugh, verse reading; Ervin Burton, original oration; Margaret Meitzler, extempore.

These six people competed in the sub-district contest at Rankin; March 22 and the sub-district contest at Rantoul, March 26. In the latter Ervin Burton won second place in original oration in Class B. Armstrong placed fourth among the schools in this class.

The following people tried out in speech: Serious reading—Cora Baker, Louise Collins, Robert Cessna. Humorous Reading — Elizabeth Strader, Ellen Collins, Barbara Johnson, Roselyn Roberts, Peter Grubb, Annabel Romack, Robert Morris, Robert Cessna. Oratorical Declamation—Martin Metz, Peter Grubb. Verse Reading—Inez Kite, Mary Belle Altman, Joyce Britt, Edna Firebaugh. Original Oration—Ervin Burton. Extempore—Margaret Meitzler.

SENIORS ADVICE TO THE FRESHMAN

Do not kick the table's legs.
Do not pull the teapot's nose.
Don't beat unoffending eggs.
Don't ask bread what time it rose.
Do not pinch the table salt.
Do not poke the needle's eye.
Don't smack the apple's rosy cheek.
Don't try to shingle the roof of your mouth.
Don't ever try to eat a square meal—the corners might hurt.
Don't try to sharpen your shoulder blade.
Don't think that a basketball coach has four wheels.
Don't think that a ship has eyes because it goes out to sea.
Don't think that a traffic jam is a new kind of preserves:

"TUNE IN"

The annual operetta, entitled "Tune In," was presented on February 11. The entire boys' and girls' glee clubs of about seventy students made up the cast.

The speaking parts were played by Robert Bass, Mary Lou Fairchild, Mary Foster, Marvin Swanson, Charles Campbell, Helen Havener, Robert Doran, Johnny King, Richard Wallace, Ervin Burton, E. J. Blakney, Julia Burd, Marjorie Funkhouser, Sarah Ludwig and Barbara Johnson. The chorus consisted of radio stars, engineers, continuity writers, announcers, production men, gypsies and studio guests.

The operetta was under the direction of Mrs. Evelyn Lindgren. Dick Reynolds coached all the dances in the operetta.

The baseball team finished second in the North Vermilion Athletic League with four victories and one defeat. With Campbell pitching fine ball and all members of the team giving him good support, all four conference victories were shut outs.

Two no hit no run victories stand out in the season's record. Schoolcraft turned in this record against Alvin while Campbell duplicated this feat in the season's final against Rankin.

The schedule was as follows:

Oakwood (non-conference)	1	Armstrong	.....	3

RESUME'*B A S K E T B A L L

The basketball team turned out a good percentage this year, winning twelve games and only losing two. They placed second in the county league, and received fourth in the county tournament. The boys started out the season by winning seven games straight. They then lost a game to Oakwood by a margin of one point. The team got its second defeat at Georgetown, which the boys hated to lose because of Georgetown's standing in the county.

The team won a non-conference game with Sadorus who had a fairly high rank in the Champaign race. Later in the season they lost to Rantoul and Philo also of Champaign County.

The boys lost by graduation this year: E. Johnson; E. Kissack; M. Swanson and R. Schoolcraft.

Charles Campbell received a medal for the highest percentage of free throws made.

The schedule was as follows:

	Paxton	Holiday	Tournament
East Lynn	24	Armstrong	29

Be always as merry as ever you can,
For no one delights in a sorrowful man.

Mr. Werries—"Ralph, spell weather."

Ralph — "W-I-E-T-H-O-U-R."

Mr. Werries — "Sit down, Ralph.
That's the worst spell of weather we've had this year."

"Why is a pancake like the sun."
"Dot's easy," answered the Swede (Marvin Swanson.) "It rises out of der yeast, and sets behind der vest."

"Yassah," said the little darky,
"I's named for' mah parents.
Pa's name was Ferdinand and Mammy's name was Liza."
"What's your name, then?"
"Ferdiliza."

Miss Hoffman was explaining to Naomi Butts how the trees develop their foliage in springtime.
"Oh, yes," said Naomi, "I know
now. They keep their summer clothes in their trunk."

Mr. Laurence—"Howard, what is the height of your ambition?"
Howard—"Oh, she comes almost to my shoulder."

The hotel was crowded and a very fat man was forced to spend the night on a wire cot minus mattress and blankets. "How did you sleep?" inquired the clerk
the next morning.

"Oh, I slept all right," the fat man assured him, "but I certainly did look like a waffle when I got up this morning.

Mr. Maxey — "Somebody kindly run up the shade as far as you can.

Eldon Johnson was doing his own shopping. He said to the pretty girl behind the draper's counter: "I want a pillowcase, please."
"Yes," said the girl. What size?"
Eldon looked awkward.

"Why—er—I'm not sure," he said,
"but I take a 6½ hat!"

The parlor sofa holds the twain,
Margaret and her love-sick swain
He and she.
But hark, a step upon the stair
And papa finds them sitting there
He and she.

"Yes," said Mr. Porter, "I have had some terrible disappointments, but none stand out over the years like one that came to me when I was a boy."

"And what was that?"

"When I was a boy I crawled under a tent to see a circus and discovered it was a revival meeting.

Miss Graham had found Raymond backward in writing compositions. At last she had an inspiration. She would have him write an account of a baseball game.

It seemed she was successful for the paper was handed in promptly.

It read: "Rain—no game."

Mr. Burd—"Did you dream you were out riding with Marvin last night?"

Julia—"Yes, how did you guess it?"

Dad—"I saw you walking in your sleep."

"What beautiful scallops you have made on the pies, Mandy! How do you do it?"

"Ah's glad you like dem, ma'am. Ah just used mah false teeth to make de impresses."

It was a cold winter night. Robert had called at Irma's home. The lights were low. The fire was falling into glowing embers. They were seated on a long sofa before the fire-place. It was so warm and cozy there—just they two. Oh! what could be more beautiful than love and romance—an inspiring youth—a romantic young lady. He gazed with a gently questioning look at her. She looked at him and sighed. Each was wondering—which was going after more wood.

Ervin—"Did you hear about the big fight?"

Marvin—"No, what was it?"

Ervin—"Our cat licked his paw."

Miss Newell—"Conjugate swim."

Howard—"Swim, swam, swum."

Miss Newell—"Right. Now conjugate dim."

Howard—"Dim D—! Say, what are you trying to do, make a fool out of me?"

Man in Barber Chair, twice nicked by razor: "Give me a glass of water, quick!"

Barber: "Whassa matter; hair in your mouth?"

Excited Customer: "No, I want to see if my neck leaks."

A farmer in the Dust Bowl territory was rejoicing over the precipitation of moisture when his hired man came into the house.

"Why don't you stay in out of the rain?" asked the farmer.

I don't mind a little dew like this," said the man. I can work along just the same."

"Oh, I'm not talking about that," exclaimed the farmer. "The next time it rains you come into the house. I want the water on the land!"

"All those who would like to go to heaven," said the Sunday School Teacher, "please raise their hands."

All did except one.

"Why, Johnny," exclaimed the teacher, "wouldn't you like to go to heaven?"

"Naw," said Johnny, "not if that bunch is goin'."

Mr. Bass—"Why is my gas tank always empty on Monday morning?"

Riddle: "Why is a crack in a chair like a policeman?"

Answer: "Because it will pinch you if you don't park right."

"Conductor, will you help me off the train?"

"Sure, but why?"

"You see, I'm stout, and have to get off the train backwards. The porter thinks I'm trying to get on and he gives me a shove on again. I'm five stations past my destination now!"

Clara Foster—"When did the revival of learning start?"

Arlene Clark, "Just before exams."

One of a group of people gathered about a wrecked car cried to the man who was lying beneath, "Say, Mister, did you have an accident?"

"Oh, no, nothing like that! The kids always wanted to see the works so I turned the darn thing over for them."

Lois—"I don't understand this home work, dad. The teacher told me to find the greatest common divisor."

Mr. Morris—"What! Haven't they found that yet? They were looking for that when I was in school."

RESUME'

Joseph N. Booher — Janitor — Died March 24, 1938.

"So live that when thy summons comes to join
The innumerable caravan that moves
To that mysterious realm, where each shall take
His chamber in the silent halls of death,
Thou go not, like the quarry-slave at night,
Scourged to his dungeon, but, sustained and soothed
By an unfaltering trust, approach thy grave
Like one who wraps the drapery of his couch
About him, and lies down to pleasant dreams."

Lester Booher — Substitute Janitor —
